

American Purebred

The American Purebred Association is what Purebred dog owners have been waiting for. It's a purebred dog organization focus on the breed. The American Purebred Association exists to serve Purebred Dog owners. That's good news for people who want the best of their breed. That's good news for people who want to learn more...

How Things Work

The American Purebred Association exists to allow for the Registration of purebred dogs. To avoid the pitfalls that other organizations have experienced, the American Purebred Association requires photographic proof of a purebred's characteristics. Anyone desiring to register their purebred must submit a short application, two photos of their animal (a front and side view) along with our registration fee of just $10 (non-refundable). Dogs of any age qualify, but puppies must be at least eight weeks old (and photos must be taken at 8 weeks or later) to be registered.

Our staff will review the application and study the photos of your dog. We are looking for physical characteristics of

The Basics

American Purebred Association registrations are not transferable from other Dog Breeding Club Organizations. That's because the registration process is not based on the background of an animal, but on the appearance. We feel this better meets the needs of many breeders and pet owners who want a purebred dog to look like one, despite what a piece of paper might say.

We have also simplified the process of Litter Registration which so often creates problems for those with purebreds having puppies. Parents do NOT need to be American Purebred Association registered in order for you to register a litter! Just submit two photos of each one of the parents fraud without visual registration, almost any dog could end up being considered a purebred as long as the paperwork said so. DNA testing has only complicated the situation with many registrations now being questioned or cancelled due to fraud.

The American Purebred Association exists to serve the needs of Purebred Breeders, not complicate their lives. We make Purebred Puppy and Dog Registration a simple and painless process. Register online or by mail.
